

Amendment on Transition Periods

Whereas Senate often has unfinished projects at the end of their term;

Whereas Senate projects can extend beyond one term;

Whereas the current transition period does not provide adequate time for an efficient change of command;

Whereas the incoming Senate can benefit from the guidance of outgoing senators;

Therefore let it be resolved that

Senate Bylaws, Sec. VI, #7 reads:

One^y Senate member selected from^{will be} Academics, Diversity, Ethics, Gender, Residence Life, and University Affairs remain as an advisory member of each respected^{the outgoing} committee^{lye} until the third committee meeting in the fall.
