

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Amir Khouzam to serve as the Director of Faith in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Amir Khouzam is a Neuroscience and Arabic double major, with a plan to pursue medical school after college. He is very excited to help develop the Faith community for everyone on the Notre Dame campus as much as possible. He loves being involved in research on campus, especially when it has to do with the brain and cognition, and also prenatal lung development. He is also a member of the God and the Good Life Fellows program, where he leads students in weekly philosophical dialogues. Amir has been involved in Student Government through the First Year Undergraduate Experience in Leadership (FUEL) and also being a member of the Department of Health and Wellbeing. He is a proud member of Keough Hall, in which he plays guitar for the Keough Liturgical Choir. In his free time, Amir loves playing piano and guitar, particularly with the Music is Medicine Club, cooking/experimenting in his kitchen, learning Arabic, watching critically acclaimed movies, and shooting film photography!

As the Director of Faith, Amir will faithfully execute the duties of his office, which include but are not limited to:

- Ensure that the Catholic character of the University is preserved and can grow.
- Work with groups of other faith traditions (or no faith tradition) to ensure that all students feel welcome in the Notre Dame community.
- Collaborate with other University groups such as Campus Ministry to promote events and initiatives that can assist in deepening students' personal faith journeys.

Amir leads a very strong and devout personal faith life, and his faith life is the guiding force in all that he does. As a former FUELeR, he has demonstrated his commitment to improving this University through working in the Student Union. We rest assured in his ability to guide this Student Body in all matters of faith. He is an incredible man of faith who has demonstrated deep care and regard for members of differing faith traditions. We are confident that he will find tremendous success in this role.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

Daniel M. Jung,
Student Body President-Elect

Aidan C. Rezner

Student Body Vice President-Elect

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Anna Dray to serve as the Director of University Policy in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Anna is a member of the Class of 2025 studying Neuroscience and Behavior on the pre-medical track with a minor in Classical Studies Greek and Roman Civilization. She is originally from outside of Chicago in Elmhurst, IL, but she is a West Quad wildcat in Ryan Hall on campus. This will be Anna's second year serving as the Director of University Policy, a position which she began after being a member of FUEL her freshman year. Anna spent her first year in the role working on instituting mobile IDs, renovating dorm gyms, researching solutions to contentious issues, and collaborating with campus safety offices. She is passionate about implementing change in areas that concern her peers and is thrilled to be a voice that prioritizes the identities, health, and finances of students again during the 2023-2024 term. Outside of Student Government, Anna enjoys working at her job in Memorial Hospital of South Bend, serving as a research assistant in the Sleep, Stress, and Memory Lab, and volunteering with the First Aid Services Team at athletic events on campus. In her free time, you can find Anna listening to any and all genres of music, running, baking, or spending time with friends. She loves meeting people and engaging in new conversations, so do not hesitate to reach out!

As the Director of University Policy, Anna will faithfully execute the duties of her office, which include but are not limited to:

- Formulate long-term solutions to pressing issues in the student experience.
- Work closely with administrative groups to form lasting relationships between the Notre Dame Administration and the Notre Dame Student Union.
- Promote the ways in which Notre Dame's newest policies are benefitting the Notre Dame Student population.

Anna brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to this position. As the former Director of University Policy for the 2022-2023 Executive Cabinet, she has already formed incredible relationships with the administration, and firmly understands the processes and procedures for implementing her intended goals for the term ahead. Anna is a level-headed, pragmatic and thoughtful leader, and we have full faith the Department of University Policy will once again thrive under her leadership.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Sarah Mahoney to serve as the Co-Director of Student Life in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Sarah Mahoney is a member of the Class of 2025, majoring in Environmental Science on the Pre-Medicine track with a minor in Theology. She is originally from Lewisburg, Pennsylvania but is proud to call Cavanaugh Hall her on campus home. As a part of FUEL during her first year, Sarah worked on several community engagement and communications initiatives. During her sophomore year, she continued this student government involvement as the Co-Director for Student Life. She is beyond excited to serve the student body again as Co-Director of Student Life and continue to advocate for student concerns while strengthening the Notre Dame community. Outside of student government, Sarah is a part of Army ROTC, campus ministry, serves as a Tour Guide, and enjoys running in her free time. She looks forward to representing the student body and encourages anyone to reach out with any questions regarding student life at Notre Dame!

As the Co-Director of Student Life, Sarah will faithfully execute the duties of her office, which include but are not limited to:

- Collaborate with Campus Dining to increase the availability and quality of dining hall offerings, as well as enhance the equity and variety of offerings within Grab & Go.
- Host annual events that enhance the student experience, such as Flick on the Field.
- Promote the student experience at Notre Dame by hosting entertainment activities for students, celebrating the artistic achievements of students and promoting student safety.

Sarah brings a wealth of drive, positivity and maturity to all of her endeavors. As Co-Director of Student Life within the 2022-2023 Executive Cabinet, she has proven her commitment to improving this University time and time again, and we rest assured in her ability to execute this role once again. She is an assertive communicator, strong advocate, and incredibly bright individual. She and her Co-Director will find great success in actualizing the goals set out for this department.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

Daniel M. Jung,

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Nadim Khouzam to serve as the Co-Director of Student Life in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Nadim Khouzam is a member of the College of Science with a major in Neuroscience and Behavior on the pre-medicine track with a minor in Middle Eastern Studies. Originally from Myrtle Beach, Nadim now resides in Dillon Hall, where he has previously served as Vice President and Executive Commissioner. When not dedicating his all to Student Life at Notre Dame, you can often find Nadim at Jordan Hall studying until the break of dawn, in Dillon with his buddies, or at the Basilica attending mass. Nadim is also involved with other programs around campus including the Kellogg Developing Researchers program, two research labs (which consume most of his time here, but he loves it), in the Dillon Hall Chapel taking care of inventory and upkeep, or working as a TA in Professor Sarah West's organic chemistry lab. Nadim is extremely open to help anyone out with anything they need. Don't be a stranger!

As the Co-Director of Student Life, Nadim will faithfully execute the duties of his office, which include but are not limited to:

- Collaborate with Campus Dining to increase the availability and quality of dining hall offerings, as well as enhance the equity and variety of offerings within Grab & Go
- Host annual events that enhance the student experience, such as Flick on the Field
- Promote the student experience at Notre Dame by hosting entertainment activities for students, celebrating the artistic achievements of students and promoting student safety

Through his involvement in the 2021-2022 FUEL Cohort, in addition to his other leadership experiences, Nadim has proven that he has the drive, personality, and work ethic capable of succeeding in this director role. We rest assured that, in working with his fellow Co-Director of Student Life, he will be able to further the interests of the undergraduate student body and bring about tangible improvements. He is an incredibly bright and charismatic individual with an effusive persona, who is more than qualified and ready for this position.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Luzolo Matundu to serve as the Director of Diversity and Inclusion: Race and Ethnicity in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Luzolo Matundu is a member of the Class of 2024 from Chicago, IL currently living in Farley Hall. She is majoring in Political Science with supplementary majors in Africana Studies and Applied & Computational Mathematics & Statistics. She ultimately wants to make the world a better place and is passionate about social justice issues, diversity, and inclusion. In addition to being a director in Student Government, Luzolo is also the Vice President of Shades of Ebony, an intern for ND Admissions, and an active member of Diversity Council. She is also a Questbridge Scholar, co-host for Black@ND, boxer in Baraka Bouts Women's Boxing, and singer in Voices of Faith Gospel Choir. When she is not doing coursework or in a meeting, Luzolo loves to spend time with her family and friends, vibe to music with her earbuds in, take pictures of foods she tries, and watch Disney and Netflix tv shows and movies. She loves to talk to and spend time with others, so do not hesitate to reach out!

As the Director of Diversity and Inclusion: Race and Ethnicity, Luzolo will faithfully execute the duties of her office, which include but are not limited to:

- Host events and create policy that is focused on augmenting the student experience of students from racial or ethnic minority backgrounds.

- Work closely with Notre Dame administrative groups so that they may better care for marginalized and minority groups here on campus.
- Promote a campus culture that seeks to fully welcome and embrace all students, regardless of racial or ethnic background.

Luzolo is extraordinarily knowledgeable in the world of diversity, equity and inclusion. As a former member of the Department of Diversity & Inclusion: Race & Ethnicity for within the 2022-2023 Executive Cabinet, she demonstrated the work ethic and passion necessary to lead this department. We rest assured in her ability to be part of this department, once again, this time in the role of director. She is a bright and assertive leader who will find great success in actualizing the goals set out for this department.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Cheyenne Stewart to serve as the Diversity of Diversity & Inclusion: First-Generation Low-Income in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Cheyenne Stewart is a Neuroscience and Behavior major in the Glynn Family Honors Program. She was born in Hungary but lives in Terre Haute, IN and calls McGlenn Hall her home on campus. During her first year at ND, Cheyenne was involved in FUEL (First Undergraduate Experience in Leadership) and served on the Student Government's Disability Advocacy Department as well as worked on FUEL's student life subcommittee.

Outside of Student Government, she loves to work as a tour guide and Admissions Ambassador on campus. She has recently traveled to Panama with her Global Medical Brigades group, frequently serves as a eucharistic minister and lector during hall and Basilica masses, and participates in health-and-medicine-related clubs. When she's not involved in academics and extracurriculars, you can find Cheyenne spending time with her closest friends, enjoying the sunshine outdoors, drinking coffee, and planning fun trips with her family. Cheyenne is thrilled to advocate for and support first-generation and low-income students as the Director of the Diversity and Inclusion - First-Generation Low-Income Department. She loves meeting new people and engaging in conversations, so reach out and stop her with your ideas or just to talk!

As the Director of Diversity & Inclusion: First Generation Low income, Cheynne will faithfully execute the duties of her office, which include but are not limited to:

- Host events and create policy that is focused on augmenting the First-Generation-Low-Income student experience.
- Work closely with Notre Dame administrative groups so that they may better cater to the needs of First-Generation Low-Income students.
- Promote a campus culture that seeks to welcome and embrace all students, regardless of socioeconomic background or status.

Cheynne is an intelligent, ambitious, thoughtful leader. Her previous experience as a member of FUEL showcases her deep care and understanding for the Student Union, and her other experiences exemplify her leadership ability. She is an incredible person with a strong work ethic. Her own personal experience as an FGLI student at this University confirms her passion for this role and commitment to working tirelessly to improve the student experience for all Notre Dame FGLI students.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Mary Grace Walsh to serve as the Director of Diversity and Inclusion: Disability Advocacy in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Mary Grace is a member of the Class of 2025 who originally hails from Midlothian, Virginia. She is now proud to call herself a resident of Flaherty Hall (Roll Bears!) and is thrilled to serve as the Director of the Department of Disability Advocacy this year. Majoring in Theology and Sociology combines her love for people with her faith-based drive for change, especially in regards to mental health and disability justice. While this is her first director position in Student Government, she also serves as an Accessibility Leadership Fellow, Pizzo Family Scholar, and Anchor Intern for Faith and Justice. Previously, she was Flaherty's Liturgical Commissioner and a member of the department she now leads. Researching the effect of cultural change on religious disaffiliation led her to study abroad in Rome last spring, where she developed unusually strong opinions about pasta shapes. Outside of school, Mary Grace is a proud oldest sister to the five best kids she knows, scrapbooker extraordinaire, Humor Artist, saint matchmaker, and cozy Switch game devotee. She loves to meet new people and learn about their lives, so please reach out if you'd like to share a meal or need a Mass buddy!

As the Director of Diversity and Inclusion: Disability Advocacy, Mary Grace will faithfully execute the duties of her office, which include but are not limited to:

- Host events and create policy that is focused on augmenting the student experience of students with disabilities.
- Work closely with Notre Dame administrative groups so that they may better care for students with accommodations.
- Promote a campus culture that seeks to fully welcome and embrace all students, regardless of any disabilities or accommodations they may have.

Mary Grace is incredibly passionate about disability advocacy and justice. As a former member of Diversity & Inclusion: Disability Advocacy, she has demonstrated the work ethic and passion necessary to succeed in this role. Her experience with the Accessibility Leadership Fellows program emphasizes her deep empathy for the disabled community here on campus. We rest assured in her ability to once again be part of this department, now in the role of director. She is a magnanimous and kind individual who will strive endlessly to improve the student experience for Notre Dame students with disabilities here on campus

Thank you for your time and consideration.

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Lena Dougherty to serve as the Director of Gender Relations: Title IX and Women's Initiatives in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Lena Dougherty is a member of the Class of 2025 majoring in Science Preprofessional Studies with minors in Musical Theatre and Compassionate Care from Medicine. Lena is also a proud Hesburgh-Yusko Scholar and a Galvin Scholar. She is originally from Cape May Court House, New Jersey, but calls Ryan Hall her "Home Under the Dome". Previously, Lena served as Deputy Director of the Department of Disability Advocacy and President of Ryan Hall. Extracurricularly, Lena is a member of Access-ABLE, the Pre-professional Society, and is an Accessibility Leadership Fellow. Beyond Student Government, Lena's interests lie with global and women's health, inclusion in the arts, deaf advocacy, and is an avid sunset fan. She is always willing to chat, so please never hesitate to reach out!

As the Director of Gender Relations: Title IX and Women's Initiatives, Lena will faithfully execute the duties of her office, which include but are not limited to:

- Ensure that this University fosters a culture in which women feel safe and secure at all times on this campus.
- Craft comprehensive policy that helps to promote the safety of all students
- Work with administrative groups such as the Office of Institutional Equity to understand and implement the sweeping Title IX changes coming this May.

Lena is a warm, strong and hard-working individual. Additionally, she has a deep care for the safety of all students on this campus. Her experience as a Deputy Director in the Department of Diversity & Inclusion: Disability Advocacy in the 2022-2023 Executive Cabinet demonstrates her firm understanding of how a director ought to act, behave, and lead. We rest fully assured in her ability to be an incredible leader in a director position. We have the utmost faith in her, and we know that she will make meaningful and tangible change this year.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Connor Marrott to serve as the Director of Gender Relations: LGBTQ+ Advocacy in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Connor Marrott (he/him) is a member of the Class of 2025 from Cleveland, Ohio, now proudly calling the Morrissey Manor his home. Connor is studying American Studies, Irish Studies, and Catholic Social Tradition. On campus, Connor works with the Keough-Naughton Institute in tracking the effectiveness of civil religious, sexual, and racial protections in Ireland and among the diaspora. Additionally, Connor is a case manager for drug offenders leaving prison in South Bend, helping connect them to HIV/AIDS, addiction, and mental health resources. Connor hopes to strengthen existing safety nets within student housing, expand mental and physical health resources for students, and encourage the wider Notre Dame family to embrace equity and inclusion. When not in the student government office, you can find Connor listening to your Dad's favorite rock bands, writing editorials, or reading niche books on queer theology.

As the Director of Gender Relations: LGBTQ+ Advocacy, Connor will faithfully execute the duties of his office, which include but are not limited to:

- Collaborate with groups like the Gender Relations Center (GRC) to ensure that all students feel welcomed in the Notre Dame community.
- Host events that enhance the experience of LGBTQ+ students
- Advocate for all students to treat every student, regardless of identity, with the proper respect and love as dedicated children of God.

Connor brings a wealth of knowledge, positivity and kindness to all of his pursuits and endeavors. As the Director of Gender Relations: LGBTQ+ Advocacy, Connor will execute this position with the utmost compassion and grace, ensuring that all students feel safe and represented on this campus. He is an incredibly intelligent, passionate and caring individual, and we have full faith he will have every ability to actualize the goals set out for this department.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Emma Ronck to serve as the Co-Director of Health and Wellness in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Emma Ronck is a sophomore studying Neuroscience and Behavior on the pre-med track, with minors in Compassionate Care in Medicine and Patient Advocacy. She is originally from Rogers, Arkansas, but her home on campus is Welsh Family Hall. Emma has previously served as a member of FUEL. Emma is also a member of the Notre Dame Scholars Program as a Scott Scholar. Outside of Student Government, she is on the Notre Dame Pom Squad, the Notre Dame Dance Company, serves on the PreProfessional Society Board, and acts as the Service Learning Trip Coordinator for MedLife! She would be so happy to meet and chat with anyone regarding student government and the executive cabinet, health and wellness, or any personal interests, questions, or stories!

As the Co-Director of Health and Wellness, Emma will faithfully execute the duties of her office, which include but are not limited to:

- Collaborate with University Health Services (UHS), University Counseling Center (UCC), and the McDonald Center for Student Well-Being to create holistic health solutions that benefit all aspects of the human person.
- Host annual events that promote knowledge of the universities health resources.
- Work with students to help assess points of concern among the University's health services.

Emma brings a positive tenacity in every aspect of her leadership. As a former FUELeR, she has proved her deep respect for and love of the Student Union, and we rest assured in her ability to execute this role. She has a positive and outgoing attitude and an immense passion for supporting the wellbeing of her peers. Emma and her Co-Director will find great success in working together to help promote the health and wellness of all Notre Dame students.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Emma Prestage to serve as the Co-Director of Health and Wellness in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Emma Prestage is a sophomore studying Accountancy with a minor in Business and the Common Good. She is originally from Cranston, Rhode Island and now lives in Flaherty Hall! As a member of FUEL her freshman year, Emma worked on the Department of Student Life and the Communications subcommittee. Her favorite part of Student Government is the unique and special group it brings together. She is excited to promote and advocate for student wellbeing as Co-Director of Health and Wellness! On campus, she is involved with the Faith and Justice Leadership Alliance in Campus Ministry, the Deloitte Scholars Program, the Basilica Liturgical Ministry Team, and serves as a volunteer Admissions Ambassador. She's always happy to chat about favorite Beach reads, running routes around campus, and anything related to maintaining proper mental and physical wellness!

As the Co-Director of Health and Wellness, Emma will faithfully execute the duties of her office, which include but are not limited to:

- Collaborate with University Health Services (UHS), University Counseling Center (UCC), and the McDonald Center for Student Well-Being to create holistic health solutions that benefit all aspects of the human person.
- Host annual events that promote knowledge of the universities health resources.
- Work with students to help assess points of concern among the University's health services.

Emma is a driven and passionate individual. As a former FUELER, she has demonstrated her knowledge of and passion for the Student Union. Her impressive resume, devoted work ethic, and passion for ensuring the wellbeing of her peers leave us fully confident in her ability to faithfully execute this role. She is an incredible communicator and leader, and she and her Co-Director will find great success in working together to help promote the health and wellness of all Notre Dame students.

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Kate Jackowski to serve as the Director of Community Outreach in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Kate is a member of the Class of 2024 studying Economics and Pre-Health Studies with a minor in Theology. Kate is involved in Circle K, an on campus service club and was previously the Co-President and Vice President. Last year, she also served as the Welsh Family Hall Senator where she initially got involved with the Student Union. She is passionate about many social justice issues including homelessness, poverty, drug addiction, food insecurity and is excited to see how the different disciplines can work to make meaningful change in these and other areas. Outside of school and extracurriculars, Kate enjoys reading, crocheting, and hanging out with adorable cats and dogs.

As the Director of Community Outreach, Kate will faithfully execute the duties of her office, which include but are not limited to:

- Augment student engagement with the local community through the mode of service.
- Work closely with community partners in the local area to collaborate on how Notre Dame can better serve the community.
- Collaborate with Notre Dame administrative groups to better assess the needs of the community, and formulate action plans to bring about positive change.

Kate is a bright, hard-working individual with an incredible heart to serve. Her past experience in the Student Union as a senator emphasizes her commitment to serving the campus community, and her extensive involvement in the local community illustrates her devotion to serve those around her. She is an affable communicator and strong leader, and we have no doubt that she will find tremendous success in engaging Notre Dame students with the wider community.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Anna Jang to serve as the Director of South Bend Engagement in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Anna Jang is a Finance and Economics major with a minor in Art History. She is originally from Long Island, NY, but calls Pasquerilla East Hall home on campus. Anna was a member of FUEL (First Undergraduate Experience in Leadership) her freshman year where she found a passion for the people of the Notre Dame community. In her role as Director of South Bend Engagement, Anna hopes to immerse Notre Dame students with South Bend's local businesses and experiences through impactful programming and policy. Outside of student government, Anna is involved with SIBC (Student International Business Council), IBM Notre Dame Tech Ethics Lab, The Family Justice Center of St. Joseph's County, and the ND Scholars Program. Reach out to Anna without hesitation if you want to talk South Bend, geek over art, partake in yoga or cycling at Duncan together, or just grab a coffee to talk about lived experiences.

As the Director of South Bend Engagement, Anna will faithfully execute the duties of her office, which include but are not limited to:

- Create an appreciation among Notre Dame students for all that South Bend has to offer.
- Promote local arts, business, and cultural events happening in and around the South Bend community.
- Work with students to create programming and policy to attract interest in the South Bend community.

Anna brings a strong passion for and understanding of the South Bend community to this position. As a former member of the 2022-2023 FUEL Cohort who served on the South Bend Engagement subcommittee, she has attained hands-on experience in working with different groups in and around South Bend. We rest assured of her qualifications for this role. She is an incredibly energetic, innovative and passionate individual, and we know she will have no issue in achieving all the goals she has set out for her department this year.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Joey Kositzke to serve as the Director of Academic Affairs in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Joey is a member of the Class of 2025 and native to the great state of Wisconsin, hailing from the city of Kenosha. He will serve this year as the Director of Academic Affairs, driven by an interest in providing student support for all things academic, from new resources to revamped programs. As Department Director, he is committed to being a representative for student voices and providing the changes that will effectively grow our academic flourishing across campus. Joey is a very proud Keenan Knight and actively participates in many of their events such as the illustrious Keenan Revue, as well as the hall's various interhall sports teams. Outside of residential life, Joey is pursuing a major in American Studies with minors in Social Entrepreneurship & Innovation and Business Economics. He works with the Office of Admissions as a campus tour guide, hosts a weekly radio show – Joe's Jams – on WSND, and is an active member of the Sheedy Family Program. In his spare time, Joey listens to music (just about any genre), watches many films (somewhat of a critic), and spends lots of time with friends. He is ecstatic to have the opportunity to serve the student body this year and looking forward to the opportunities in connecting with our community. Feel free to reach out with any questions or just to meet!

As the Director of Academic Affairs, Joey will faithfully execute the duties of his office, which include but are not limited to:

- Collaborate with administrative groups to streamline and make tangible improvements to the Notre Dame academic experience.
- Host events that showcase the incredible breadth and depth of Notre Dame academic resources.
- Promote the academic excellence and character of the University.

Joey brings a great deal of knowledge, experience and foresight to this role. As a member of the 2021-2022 FUEL Cohort and the Co-Director of FUEL for the 2022-2023 Executive Cabinet, he has proven his devotion and commitment to improving this University time and time again, and we rest assured in his ability to execute the roles and responsibilities of this position once again. He has a kind hearted personality, strong work ethic, and a deep love for Notre Dame. We have full faith that we will find phenomenal success in the pursuit of his goals this year.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Ben Martin to serve as the Director of National Affairs and Political Engagement in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Ben Martin is a Class of 2025 Glynn scholar studying Political Science and French with a minor in Art History. Hailing from Lake Charles, Louisiana, Ben currently resides in St. Edward's Hall. Alongside his role as Student Government's Director of National Affairs and Political Engagement, Ben is a member of numerous organizations on and off campus, including the Student Coalition for Immigration Advocacy, BridgeND, and the American Exchange Project Alumni Board. He hopes to use his time in this position to register as many students as possible to vote — as well as promote a culture of healthy civil discourse — on campus. When he is not in the Student Government office, you may find Ben on the tennis court, listening to Taylor Swift, or hastily running past the geese at St. Joseph's Lake. He would love the opportunity to meet with anyone interested to discuss the state of domestic and international politics, art history, or any thoughts you would like to share!

As the Director of National Affairs and Political Engagement, Ben will faithfully execute the duties of his office, which include but are not limited to:

- Promote a campus climate that exemplifies a noble civility when engaging in civil discourse.

- Assist in registering students to vote, as well as informing them of upcoming elections on the local, state, and national level.
- Providing a non-partisan and objective opinion on all political matters relating to the University.

As a member of organizations like BridgeND, Ben has shown that he strongly desires all persons from all levels of the political spectrum to come together and engage in political discourse in a civil and respectful manner. We rest assured that as director he will provide an unbiased opinion on all things political at this University. He is deeply knowledgeable, possesses a strong work ethic, and has demonstrated immense passion for civic awareness and engagement. We are confident that Ben is the perfect fit for and will find tremendous success in this role.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Bernice Antoine to serve as the Director of International Outreach and Engagement in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Bernice is a member of the Class of 2026 and a proud resident of Howard Hall (go Ducks!) studying Business Analytics and Global Affairs. She originally hails from the beautiful Caribbean country of Trinidad and Tobago (two islands, one country). She champions her passions in women empowerment, youth development and entrepreneurship on campus through working with the IDEA Center as an IDEA Fellow and a De-Risking Insights Analyst, the Caribbean Student Association, and the NDIGI Women Investing Summit. This past year, she was a member of the cohort of the First Year Undergraduate Experience in Leadership (FUEL), where she was a representative on the Diversity and Inclusion: Race and Ethnicity department where she held “Mosaic of Experiences” to raise awareness of underrepresented Notre Dame experiences. Outside of campus she serves as the president for the Caribbean Youth Personal and Professional Development Network and won the 30 under 30 Caribbean Changemaker award in 2022. As the first prospective Director of International Engagement and Outreach, she is excited to help international students share their culture, thrive on campus and embrace Notre Dame as their home under the dome! Ask her anything about Black Hair Care, the Caribbean, and Google

Calendar! (Feel free to drop an invite to her Google Calendar to talk about anything, especially optimizing Google Calendar).

As the Director of International Outreach and Engagement, Bernice will faithfully execute the duties of her office, which include but are not limited to:

- Work with administrative groups to more greatly celebrate international students and their achievements at this University
- Facilitate ways in which first-year international students can more easily understand Notre Dame and American culture.
- Consult international students, student-groups and University entities on the resources available to international students on campus.
- Provide opportunities for professional development for international students, who often may find the American professional world complex to navigate

Bernice brings a wealth of drive, positivity and energy to all of her endeavors. As a former FUELeR, she has shown that she has a strong commitment to improving the University through working in the Student Union. Her personal experience as an international student and her extensive knowledge of the resources available to international students make her extremely qualified for this position. There is no other candidate we trust to run this department in its inaugural year than Bernice Anotine. We know that she will do an incredible job laying the foundations for and setting a precedent for the incredible and impactful success that this department will have in years to come.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Elizabeth Stifel to serve as the Director of Sustainability in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Lizzie is a member of the Class of 2024 studying Political Science and Global Affairs with a minor in Data Science. Lizzie is from Easton, Pennsylvania, and has lived in Madagascar, Ethiopia, Senegal, and Denmark. Most recently, she has called Breen-Phillips home (Go Babes!), though she is off-campus now. Lizzie participated in FUEL as a first-year, which is where she got her first experience in the Department of Sustainability. In her sophomore year, she went on to serve as a Co-Director of FUEL. Lizzie's love of sustainability has dated back to her childhood, and made it her passion after spending the summer after her first year in the forests of Oregon doing conservation work with AmeriCorps and the summer after her sophomore year in Washington, D.C. working with Trout Unlimited to support important environmental legislation. Alongside her role as the Director of Sustainability, Lizzie is president of the Global Health Club of Notre Dame, has participated in and led Student Policy Network projects, and is conducting two research projects in the fields of internet freedom and sustainable agriculture. For fun, you can find Lizzie in the boxing ring with Baraka Bouts, on the Gaelic football and hurling field with the Gaelic Athletic Association, or singing on stage with the Notre Dame Chorale. She would love to chat about anything related to sustainability, climate change, or environmental policy.

As the Director of Sustainability, Elizabeth will faithfully execute the duties of her office, which include but are not limited to:

- Collaborate with the Office of Sustainability to work on furthering University policy that is focused on being environmentally conscious.
- Assess how Notre Dame students can reduce waste use in their daily student lives.
- Further Notre Dame's commitment to sustainable practices and pursuits

Elizabeth has immense experience in the field of sustainability. As a former FUELEr, she has proved she has the leadership skills necessary to lead a department; this fact, coupled with her intense passion for sustainable practices renders us fully assured in her ability to succeed in this role. She has a benevolent personality and a hard-working attitude, and we have full faith in her as a director.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Hannah Long to serve as the Director of Campus Technology and Innovation in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Hannah Long is a member of the Class of 2024 studying Computer Engineering with a minor in Engineering Corporate Practice. From Chesterfield, MO (suburb of St. Louis, MO), she lives in Welsh Family Hall on campus where she was the secretary (2022-2023) and special projects commissioner (2021-2022), and is an RA for the 2023-2024 school year. Before becoming the Director of Campus Technology and Innovation, she was involved with the Campus Technology and Academic Affairs departments in Student Government during the 2021-2022 term. Hannah is also passionate about the work of the Class Councils, and has served on the Class of 2024 Class Council each year. Outside of Student Government, Hannah served as the Co-President (2022-2023), District Treasurer (2021-2022), Club Treasurer (2021-2022), and Special Projects Chair (2020-2021) of Circle K (service organization on campus), Director of Membership Enrichment (2022-2023) and Director of Computer Science and Engineering (2021-2022) in the Society of Women Engineers, and Vice President (2021-2022) of the Notre Dame Chapter of Engineers Without Borders. In her free time, Hannah loves to spend time with family and friends, read, hike, and travel! Hannah is very passionate about technology and innovation, so please feel free to reach out to her to meet or discuss anything!

As the Director of Campus Technology and Innovation, Hannah will faithfully execute the duties of her office, which include but are not limited to:

- Update and renovate the Student Government website to reflect up-to-date, relevant, and insightful information on Student Government personnel and initiatives.
- Collaborate with OIT to streamline and improve the online student experience.
- Promote safe online practices so that students may be aware of their online footprint.

Hannah brings an incredible amount of both technical and leadership experience to this role. Her participation in Class Council and on various Student Government Departments demonstrate her love for and understanding of the Student Union. Additionally, her course of study and directorship in the Society of Women Engineers demonstrates her development of the technical skills necessary for this position. We are confident in her leadership and work ethic, and we know that she will greatly succeed in this role.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Claire Crafts to serve as the Co-Director of First Undergraduate Experience in Leadership (FUEL) in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Claire Crafts is a member of the Class of 2024 at the University of Notre Dame majoring in psychology and minoring in Business Economics, and PRL (Philosophy, Religion, and Literature). Originally from Orange County, CA, Claire called Pasquerilla West Hall home while living on campus. As a first-year, she participated in FUEL, returned to student government as a sophomore to direct the Communications Department, and is absolutely thrilled to be back now as a senior to co-lead FUEL after a semester abroad in Dublin. Outside of student government, Claire can be found giving admissions campus tours, conducting psychology research in the Moral and Adolescent Psychology Lab, frequenting the Sacred Heart Basilica as a lector and an EM (Eucharistic Minister), volunteering at St. Margaret's House, attending lots of Smith Center yoga classes, and spending time with friends on lake walks and coffee dates! She loves chatting about anything to do with student government, psychology, or life at Notre Dame, so feel free to reach out!

As the Co-Director of FUEL, Claire will faithfully execute the duties of her office, which include but are not limited to:

- Establishing and selecting the FUEL cohort for the Class of 2027, choosing the most qualified and impressive candidates without bias.
- Hosting and planning weekly meetings for FUEL
- Educating the first-years in all things relating to the Student Union and the wider Notre Dame community, and how those first-years can help bring about positive campus change.

Claire brings an incredible amount of impressive and extensive experience to the role. As a former Department Director and FUELER herself, Claire has proven her commitment to unceasingly improving this University, and we rest assured in her ability to once again operate successfully in a director capacity. She is an incredible communicator and wildly kind person, and she and her Co-Director will find great success in actualizing the goals set out for this department and mentoring the next class year of Student Union leaders.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Alexandra Conley to serve as the Co-Director of First Undergraduate Experience in Leadership (FUEL) in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Alexandra is from Tustin, California studying Political Science and American Studies. Her on campus family will forever be the Welsh Family Hall Whirlwinds, where she enjoyed serving in hall council, but next year she will live off campus. In her first year at ND, Alexandra participated in FUEL which was one of her favorite experiences at ND, and she is thrilled to return to FUEL now as a co-director. Aside from FUEL, she has loved working on the (now-defunct) Department of Gender Relations as a member for the two years. Outside of student government, Alexandra is in the Kellogg International Scholars Program and is a student caller at ND Listens (the best job on campus). Some of her loves include all things culinary, Harry Potter, Modern Family, and going on long walks. Alexandra is so excited to meet her FUELers in the fall and watch them grow into amazing leaders! Please never hesitate to reach out and ask to have a chat or cup of coffee--or even better a scoop of ice cream.

As the Co-Director of FUEL, Alexandra will faithfully execute the duties of her office, which include but are not limited to:

- Establishing and selecting the FUEL cohort for the Class of 2027, choosing the most qualified and impressive candidates without bias.
- Hosting and planning weekly meetings for FUEL
- Educating the first-years in all things relating to the Student Union and the wider Notre Dame community, and how those first-years can help bring about positive campus change.

Alexandra brings an incredible energy and passion to all that she does. As a former FUELeR, she fully understands the significance and importance of the First Undergraduate Experience in Leadership. Her other experience as a Kellogg International Scholar and as a former department member lead us to be assured in her ability to properly execute this role. She has an infectious positivity, and she and her Co-Director will find great success in actualizing the goals set out for this department and mentoring the next class year of Student Union leaders.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

To the Student Senate of the University of Notre Dame du Lac,

We respectfully request your consideration in confirming Alex Neff to serve as the Director of Communications in the Executive Cabinet for the upcoming 2023-2024 term.

Alex Neff is a member of the Class of 2025 studying Marketing with a minor in Business Technology. Originally from Limerick, Pennsylvania (outside of Philadelphia), she is a proud member of the Cavanaugh Hall Chaos. Prior to becoming the Director of Communications, Alex had multiple roles within Student Government. As a first-year, she was a member of FUEL (First Undergraduate Experience in Leadership) serving on the Department of Sustainability and the FUEL Communications Subcommittee. Alex then served as the Department of Communications Sub-Director of Social Media during her sophomore year. In her new role, she is excited to promote the amazing work of her fellow directors and boost the relationship between students and Student Government. Alongside Student Government, Alex is a marketing intern for OIT, a member of Innovation for Impact, and a commissioner for Cavanaugh Hall Council. In her free time, she loves to read, bake, and spend any other moments with her friends and family. Feel free to reach out with any questions or to meet for coffee sometime!

As the Director of Communications, Alex will faithfully execute the duties of her office, which include but are not limited to:

- Ensure that the all Department Directors are fully aware and updated as to how to properly register, plan for, and advertise their events, initiatives, and programming
- Promote Notre Dame Student Government through the creation of informative and aesthetic graphics to be posted on the Notre Dame Student Government Instagram
- Enhance communication between Notre Dame Student Government and the wider Notre Dame Student Union

Given Alex's wealth of knowledge and experience, this role is evidently the natural next step in her Student Government journey. As a FUELer, she has shown her commitment to the Student Union, and as a sub-director within the Department of Communications for the 2022-2023 Executive Cabinet, she has demonstrated a deep dedication to and an understanding of this role. She is an incredible communicator, a creative visionary and a highly motivated individual. There is no doubt that she will wildly succeed in this new role and transform Student Government communication efforts for the better.

Thank you for your time and consideration.
