Members of the Student Senate:

It is with great pleasure that we present to you our nominees for Judicial Council's Peer Advocates. According to Article XII, Section 3(e)(1) of the Constitution of the Undergraduate Student Body, "The Judicial Council President and Vice-Presidents, in conjunction with the undergraduate student advocates, shall provide assistance to undergraduate students accused of violating University rules and regulations." After a thorough application and interview process, we have selected the following individuals to serve as peer advocates for the 2022-2023 academic year:

Livi Edwards

Sarah Kerber

Josie Lloyd

Abigail Mancuso

Elizabeth Martin

Serena Melonio

Aidan Meuninck

Thomas Musgrave

Thomas O'Toole

These nominees represent a diverse group of individuals, each with different experiences and qualifications that will contribute to the success of Peer Advocacy. Some of these experiences at Notre Dame include serving as Senators for their residence halls or as Peer Advocates. Off campus, experiences include serving on their high school's Honor Council, assisting in policy research in Washington D.C., and working as a disaster relief call operator for the Red Cross of Greater New York. Most of all, each candidate has expressed an unmatched enthusiasm to maintain strict confidentiality and support for students in the Office of Community Standards' conduct review process, while simultaneously working to increase awareness of Peer Advocacy across campus. We are fully confident in each of their abilities to serve as honest, fair, and empathetic members of the Office of Peer Advocacy. It is with our unwavering endorsement that we present to you our peer advocate nominees.

Respectfully,

Madison Nemeth

President, Judicial Council

Sophonie Alcindor

Vice President of Peer Advocacy, Judicial Council
